

The Daily Courant.

Friday, June 25. 1708.

From the Paris Gazette, dated, June 23.

Warsaw, May 23.

OUR Letters from Wilna of the 13th of this Month say, that the Great General Prince Sapieha, and his Brother the Great Marshal of Lithuania, who were gone to the King of Sweden's Camp, had sent to King Stanislaus their several Resignations of those two Offices, on Condition that the Charge of Great General should be given to Prince Sapieha, Starost of Bobrowis, who had before a Patent for the Reversion of that Office, when it should become vacant. Prince Michael Wiefnowski set out from hence the 11th, for the Court of King Stanislaus, and 'tis thought that to quiet him he will be made Great General of Lithuania. The Town of Wilna have paid all their Contributions to the Swedes by the help of the Merchants of Konigsberg, who have lent them 24000 Crowns; upon which the Swedes, who were preparing to use Military execution upon them, are gone out of the Town. On the 10th King Stanislaus receiv'd the Homage of the Deputies of Wilkowiska in the Palatinate of Novogrodek. He has lately review'd his Guards, and made them Exercise after the Manner of France. Two or 300 Muscovites, whom the Swedes took Prisoners on the Frontiers, are brought so Soly from the King of Sweden's Camp, which is still at Radoskiwits, where he will continue 3 Weeks or a Month longer till the Corn be ripe. His Swedish Majesty has refus'd to receive some Letters which an Express brought him from the Czar, and sent them back unopen'd. Our Advices from Lemberg of the 16th say, that M. Talaba, Envoy from P. Rogotski, arriv'd there the 11th with a numerous Retinue, and splendid Equipage, and went thence the 14th to meet the Palatine of Belze at Jarislow, having first sent his Baggage, Tents, and Waggon loaded with Provisions to the Camp of Nisko on the San; but 'tis not known when he will go thither himself. They write from Myedzibes of the 3d, and from Caminieck of the 9th, that the Turks continu'd to work on the Fortifications of Bender on the Nieper. Some Regiments of Cossacks March'd against General Mazeppa, but he found the Means to make them return to their Duty by causing to be put to Death the Ring-leaders of the Sedition, which 'tis not known whether it was stirr'd up out of Hatred to the Czar, and with Design to withdraw themselves from his Obedience, or to hinder the Town of Bialocerkiw from being restor'd to the Republick. They write from Thorn of the 21st that the Swedes continue to exact Contributions in that Country with such Severity, that many Gentlemen of the Palatinate of Culm have been oblig'd to abandon their Houses, and the greatest part of the Land has not been Sown neither last Autumn, nor in the Spring, which makes them very apprehensive of a great Scarcity. Letters from Iranowicko of the 20th say, that Count Denhoff's being come thither with some Troops was the Cause that few Deputies appear'd at the Diet of the Palatinate of Sendomir, which was Assembled there. M. Borek, Castellan of Radom, and some others, complain'd of it, and after having enter'd their Protestations, broke up the Diet. Count Denhoff nevertheless of his own Authority adjourn'd it to the 30th of this Month, but 'tis not known what will be the event of it, because the Palatine of Belz designs to hinder the meeting of that Diet. We hear that the Diet of the Palatinate of Cracow, that was to be held the 21st, will be put off to a farther Day; and that nevertheless the Nobility will send Deputies to that Palatin, to complain that he causes to be executed the Resolutions taken in the Councils of Lublin and Lemberg, touching the Quartering of the Troops, the Assignations for their Payments, and the raising of a Dragoon by every 20 Houses; and to represent to him that there is another Difficulty in that Affair, which is, that Count Denhoff pretends to preside in the Diet, and that all things should be regulated according to the Confederation of Sendomir, of which he is Marshal; but this is oppos'd by several Senators, as being contrary to the Confederacy of Great Poland, and what may hinder the restoring of the Publick Tranquility.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated June 26.

Warsaw, June 9. The Conferences that were to have been held here, to treat of an Accommodation between King Stanislaus and the Party confederated against him, are put off for some Days, because the Palatins of Lublin and Mztaria, who were to have assisted at those Conferences in Quality of Deputies from the Confederates, were not satisfy'd with the Passports they had receiv'd from the Palatin of Kiowia but insist to have others sign'd by King Stanislaus and the King of Sweden. His Swedish Majesty went the 30th of last Month to view the Bridge he had caus'd to be laid over the Berezino at Berisou; at his return he intends to decamp from Radoskiwiski, and pass that River with his Army in order to find out the Muscovites who are encamp'd behind the Boristhenes, but King Stanislaus will continue in Lithuania. A Saxon Major has pass'd through the Quarters of King Stanislaus at Sali; being sent by King Augustus to give the King of Sweden Notice that the confederated Poles had invited him again to the Throne, but that he had refus'd their Offer. According to our last Advices from Ukraina the Cossacks at the Request of the Great Marshal of the Crown have discontinu'd to lay waste the Lands belonging to the House of Lubomirski. We have Advice that the Army of the Czar of Muscovy continues still in the Palatinates of Witepsk, Poloko and Sluts, but his Czarish Majesty is gone to Petersbourg, to the Fortifications of which Place he is adding some New Works: He has sent the Generals Walkunoki and Polgorinski towards Afaf with some Reinforcements, to strengthen the Troops of General Gonverlin who commands in those parts, and to put him in a condition to quell the Malecontents who are there got together afresh in a considerable Body.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated June 26.

Leipsich, June 20. Our last Advices from Poland say, that the King of Sweden lies still encamp'd at Radowitz, and the Muscovites beyond the River Nieper. King Stanislaus continues his March towards Wilna. The Body of Troops which he commands is to be compos'd of 24000 Men. Several Senators and Deputies of the Nobility are already arriv'd at Warsaw, to assist at the Great Council, which the Primate of the Kingdom has Summon'd to meet there, by the Advice of the Great General of the Crown, who has drawn his Army together near Nisko; which 'tis said will consist of 30000 Men, when they are joyn'd by the Troops of Lithuania.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated June 26.

Wilna, June 3. The Swedish Army continues in their former Camp, but the King went in Person the 31st of last Month to view the Roads and Morasses, which lie between his Camp and Minsko, which gives ground to believe, that the Army will break up in a short time, and march towards the Nieper. The Swedish Cavalry is remounted with Lithuanian Horses, and the Infantry is fill'd up with Recruits from Courland, insomuch that their Army now consists of 70000 effective Men. The Muscovites, who have receiv'd a great reinforcement of Troops from Muscovy, are still encamp'd at Minsko, where they seem resolv'd to expect the Swedes, and to dispute with flaws came hither the first of this Month, and intends to stay here all the Summer, or at least till he see the Success of the King of Sweden's Design against the Muscovites.

Hambourg, June 3. Our Letters from Dantzick say, that General Leeuwenhaupt return'd the 20th of last Month from the Camp of the King of Sweden, and arriv'd at Riga the 23th, where he was drawing his Army together, in order to march against the Body of Muscovites that Ravage Livonia under the Command of General Bayer. The King of Sweden is getting great Stores of Provisions together in his Camp, desirous to march against the Muscovites as soon as the Season will give him leave. A suspension of Arms for a Month is agreed upon between the Troops of King Stanislaus and those of the Confederacy of Sandomir, that the Diet of Warsaw may be quietly held by the Deputies of both Parties, to consult of Means to restore the Tranquility of Poland: Some Advices from Poland say that the Swedish Lieutenant-General Mardefelt is dead.

Constantinople, May 7. The Captain Basha is gone out of the Dardanelles with 13 Gallies, and two Men of War, aboard which are only 1000 Soldiers, which gives ground to believe that they are design'd against the Corsairs, and to exact Contribution in the Isles of Archipelago; and this too is the rather believ'd, because the Sultan seems fully resolv'd not to break with the Christian Princes.
